Terms of reference of the work for re-engagement of retired Officers as Consultant

The re-engagement of retired Officers as Consultant will have the following functional role (Operating and Commercial)

OPERATING

- a) Safety inspections and ensuring adherence to safety protocols in daily operations.
- b) Assisting in incident management, including train accidents or derailments and contributing to investigations.
- c) Overseeing and coordinating train operations to ensure smooth movement of passenger and freight trains.
- d) Managing train schedules, timekeeping and ensuring minimal delays or disruptions in operations.
- e) Planning and monitoring of traffic blocks.
- f) Proposing improvements in traffic management to reduce delays, increase capacity and optimize train movement during peak times.
- g) Providing training to staff on key areas like safety protocols, traffic control procedures and day-to-day train operations.
- h) Other responsibilities as decided from time to time other than DAR and Financial Matters.

COMMERCIAL

- a) Assisting in strategies to enhance freight revenue by analyzing cargo trends, maximizing freight utilization, and improving customer relations with major freight clients (e.g., industrial sectors, logistics firms).
- b) Offering mentorship to junior railway commercial staff, helping them understand operational intricacies, revenue models, and customer engagement strategies.
- c) Offering suggestions on enhancing customer service, improving complaint redressal mechanisms, and refining customer feedback processes for both passenger and freight services.
- d) Helping to create marketing and promotional strategies for railway services, including digital marketing, promotional campaigns for tourism-related trains, or special services such as premium passenger trains.
- e) Providing guidance on ensuring compliance with railway regulations, safety standards, and tariff laws, both for passenger and freight operations.
- f) Conducting commercial audits of freight and passenger revenue, identifying leakages or inefficiencies, and suggesting improvements in revenue protection mechanisms.
- g) Designing and conducting training programs for railway staff on revenue management, customer service, and efficient commercial operations.
- h) Other responsibilities as decided from time to time other than DAR and Financial Matters.
